The appearance of the Leslie Bell Singers on national radio networks and as guest artists with the Toronto and Philharmonic Symphony orchestras have won them international renown. Critics now acclaim them as America's greatest girls' choir. Combining in their work, as they do, the dramatic virtuosity of the Don Cossacks and the feminine charm of the Phil Spitalny singers, they are unlike any other choral group in the country. "Incredibly perfect" one critic has called them.

Others have said — "top spot among all American feminine choirs." — The Toronto Daily Star.

"It was as though an orchestra had come to life. They are a choir of genius in song." — The Toronto Evening Telegram.

"In the essentials of choral technique, their work is outstanding."
— Saturday Night.
